

There is no doubt that justice and mercy are themes that reverberate throughout the Bible, yet for many Christians such issues seem all too elusive.

This DVD aims to provide some solid theological grounding in these themes, always working from the nature of God as revealed in Jesus Christ. It is structured with a variety of content that is intended for use over six weeks by communities of Christians. Each week involves a mix of teaching, interviews with believers who are engaged in various aspects of "mercy ministries", other multimedia content, and questions for discussion. This format encourages participants to grow and learn together as the Holy Spirit works amongst the group.

Why is it all broken? How will it all end? Jesus Christ: left wing or right wing? What is righteousness anyway? What is justice? When am I guilty of neglect? Who deserves my mercy? How am I shown mercy? What time had come? Kingdom: good news to the poor? Local and global: what can we do? In whom can we find the strength?

Mick Porter lives in Brisbane, Australia, with his wife Andrea and their children Holly and Anthony. Having served for several years as a bivocational pastor, Mick is committed to writing and producing Christ-centred teaching material that can help the church (particularly through a small-group context) to grasp and apply a wide array of gospel truths.

Steve Wilson, while currently residing in Brisbane, Australia, is preparing to move with his wife Jane and children Miriam and Henry to a slum setting in one of Asia's megacities. Steve began a ministry in Brisbane to reach some highly marginalised people through practical compassion and telling them about the gospel of Jesus. He has a passion to see the lives of the poor transformed in Christ and the church engaged in Jesus' mission to make known a God of justice and mercy.
